

Savannah Bootleg Gang Is Granted Liberty on Parole

Three Haar Brothers and J. F. Williams Played Leading Roles in Federal Prison Probe.

4 MEN TO LEAVE FOR HOME TODAY

Paroles Expected Soon for Chester Tuten, Richard Bailey, J. H. Thomas and Sam Goldberg.

Willie H. Haar, Fred H. Haar, Jr., and Carl Haar, brothers, and J. F. Williams, all members of the so-called Savannah bootleg group, who played leading roles in the federal prison bribe plot trials which resulted in the conviction of Warden A. E. Sartain, Friday were paroled from the prison where they have been serving sentences.

The order liberating them was received from the office of Attorney General J. G. Sargent Friday. Mr. Sargent acted on recommendations of the parole board which held a special meeting at the prison in July.

Chester Tuten, Richard Bailey, J. H. Thomas and Sam Goldberg, convicted at the same time, and who were recommended for parole at the July parole board meeting, have heard nothing of their paroles, but it is expected to follow closely on the heels of these.

Will Leave Prison Today.

Officials at the prison declined to affirm or deny the report that the paroles have been received, but reports were that the Haars and Williams would leave the prison this morning.

Willie Haar, his brothers, Williams, and other members of the Savannah gang, were principal government witnesses in the federal conspiracy charges launched by the government against Albert E. Sartain, former warden; Loomer J. Fletcher, former deputy warden; Father Thomas P. Hayden, former Catholic chaplain, and Lawrence "Heinie" Riehl, friend of Sartain.

Sartain and Riehl were convicted and sentenced to serve 18 months and a year-and-a-day respectively at the Atlanta federal penitentiary where Sartain ruled as warden for many months. An appeal from the sentence is now pending in the United States supreme court. The two men were charged with a plot to receive money in return for "soft jobs" for the payees.

New Trial Delayed.

Father Hayden was not indicted at the first trial, but last summer he and Fletcher were indicted jointly and tried. The jury was unable to agree and a mistrial was declared. It was rumored that the case would be scheduled for trial again at the October term of court, but District Attorney Clint W. Hager has announced that he would not place the case on the calendar this term. He would not say whether he intends to set it for trial again, however.

Haar Testifies.

Willie Haar testified at the first trial that seven members of the Savannah bootleg gang paid $1,500 each, a total of $10,500, for "soft" jobs and easy assignments while they served their sentences at the penitentiary. He claimed that the money was paid to Riehl in Savannah and that Riehl acted as an agent of Warden Sartain. Father Hayden accompanied Riehl to Savannah, according to the testimony.

Other members of the Savannah group gave testimony intended to support his contention. The officials and Riehl denied the claims of the two prisoners and charged a "frame-up" between government officials and prisoners to get the defendants. The defense claimed the prisoners were coerced into giving testimony.

RICH WIDOW FOUND IN POOL OF BLOOD; NEIGHBOR IS HELD

San Antonio, Texas, September 25. (AP)—Mrs. Ada McCobb, 59, wealthy widow, died in a hospital here today shortly after she had been found lying in a pool of blood on the floor of her room in a boarding house in Harlandale, a suburb.

Mrs. Mable Longworth Sheridan, 30, who lives in the same house, was placed in the Bexar county jail, charged with murder.

Diamonds valued at $10,000, which intimate friends say Mrs. McCobb had possessed, were missing, although a quantity of other jewels were found in one of her trunks.

Scopes To Enter Chicago University To Study Geology

Chicago, September 25. (AP)—John Thomas Scopes, central figure in the Dayton, Tenn., evolution trial, arrived today to enroll at the University of Chicago as a graduate student. He is specializing in geology.

The young pedagogue, who was convicted by a Dayton jury of teaching evolution in violation of the Tennessee law and fined $100, and whose case was appealed to the state supreme court, said there are liberal thinkers in the south as there are everywhere.

"In spite of everything," he said, "I am fond of Tennessee and the people there, and I should like nothing better than to return there some day and teach, provided they would let me, the truth as science has discovered the truth."

COLLEGE PARK WILLING TO PAY 7 CENT FARES

Mayor Hugh C. Couch, Representing Municipality in Negotiations, Favorable to Increase.

PLANS CONFERENCE WITH ARKWRIGHT

Couch Confident of Settlement of Differences With Power Company on 7-Cent Fare Basis.

Voluntary establishment of a seven-cent fare in College Park as a substitute for the present five-cent rate was seen Friday night as a probable basis for adjustment of the suburban city's trolley problem.

Mayor Hugh C. Couch, named at a special councilman session Thursday to negotiate for College Park with the Georgia Railway and Power Company to avert suspension of service next Wednesday at midnight, Friday told The Constitution that in the coming conference with power company officials, he "would be inclined to the seven-cent fare as a basis for compromise."

"I talked with an official of the power company today," Mayor Couch said, "and was informed that Preston Arkwright, president of the power company, was in charge of the matter. Mr. Arkwright is out of town and is not expected to return to the city before Monday, but I will confer with him at the earliest possible moment and feel confident the threat of suspended service can and will be averted."

Referring to the power company's assertion that trolley service within the city limits of College Park is conducted at a heavy loss due to the five-cent fare, Mayor Couch said he felt "it would be just for College Park to pay car fare at the same rate as is paid by Atlanta."

Mr. Arkwright is at Tallulah Falls at the meeting of the Georgia Power association, and while he may return to Atlanta late today, it was considered probable at the power company offices Friday that he would not be back before Monday.

Several days ago the power company surrendered its franchise to operate in College Park and notified the city it would remove its trucks and discontinue service at the close of next Wednesday's schedule. Low rates and heavy losses were assigned as causes for the decision.

In 1901 the power company and College Park entered a contract by which the power company agreed on a five-cent fare, and this contract has been held continually binding by the state supreme court.

Efforts Likely to Be Futile.

It appears, however, that the president's efforts will be futile. It was learned Friday that a resolution, demanding Palmer's resignation, adopted by the board, was withheld for a few days, on the advice of some members, in order to give Palmer a chance to step down voluntarily.

The situation has developed, it was explained in one quarter Friday, where either the five members who ousted Palmer would have to be ousted or the head of the fleet corporation will have to go. The president has authority, under the shipping board act, to dismiss its members only for malfeasance in office, and it was said such could not be shown.

Since President Coolidge, in asking the resignation of Hauey, made it clear that he was doing so because of the commissioner's opposition to Palmer, the inference would be drawn that requests for other resignation were for the same reason, it was said.

Federal Judge Samuel H. Sibley, of the northern district of Georgia, announced Friday that he would sit at a private showing of "Ten Commandments," an internationally-known Famous Players-Lasky production, after evidence in a suit filed by Mrs. Mattie Thomas Thompson, of Eufula, Ala., for royalties has been completed.

Mrs. Thompson is suing the film concern and the J. J. McCarty Road Shows company, alleging that she submitted a scenario similar to that used in the production of "Ten Commandments" to the defendant picture company about five years before "Ten Commandments" was produced. She claims that the company did not return her manuscript and that she has received no compensation for writing the scenario.

The film firm contends that Miss Jeanie McPherson, of Los Angeles, is author of "Ten Commandments" and that they have paid her a-4 credited her with the authorship in screen titles. Miss McPherson will take the stand as a defense witness after the plaintiff closes her case, it became known Friday.

Hearing will be resumed at 10 o'clock this morning, Mrs. Thompson appearing as the first witness. Friday was spent in Mrs. Thompson's cross-examination and reading of depositions intended to substantiate her testimony.

Attorneys for the defense and prosecution declared they are anxious to have Judge Sibley see the picture and agree. He said he had refrained from seeing it when it was being shown at Atlanta playhouses because he knew he was to be called on to sit in this case, but that if attorneys wished he would consent to a private showing.

Beer Barons Tell Of Gross Bribery Of Jail Officials

NEGRO WHO SLEW DAN H. WILLIAMS IS UNDER ARREST

One-Eyed Slayer Caught in Philadelphia After Eluding Detection for More Than Three Years.

After successfully evading detection for nearly three years, Mack Wooten, one-eyed negro slayer and bandit who shot and killed Dan Hall Williams, one of Atlanta's most prominent lumber merchants, on the night of December 30, 1922, has been captured by Philadelphia detectives, according to information received by Acting Police Chief E. L. Jett in a telegram from T. L. Petty, inspector of detectives at Norfolk, Va.

Wooten, the telegram stated, was under arrest in Philadelphia under the name of Mack Neal Mayo. Identification was established through circulars, distributed by police officials throughout the United States. A reward of $250 was offered for the negro's arrest.

Escapes From Prison.

Wooten escaped December 25, 1922, from a penitentiary in Alabama, where he was serving a sentence of 22 years following conviction in Montgomery county under charges of robbery and assault to rob.

Coming to Atlanta, he sought shelter in the negro servants' house in the rear of the Williams' home on West Third street. Wooten began bragging about his crimes to the negro servants, saying he had killed a policeman at Tallapoosa. He threatened them with death if they refused to furnish him with sufficient food, clothing and money with which to escape.

Williams Is Slain.

When the servants told Mr. Williams of the negro's presence in the back house, he armed himself with an automatic pistol and went to investigate. Wooten raised his pistol as Mr. Williams covered him with the automatic. The bullet "jammed" in the barrel of the automatic pistol and the negro shot Williams, who died within a few minutes.

A posse was quickly formed and, with the aid of bloodhounds from the Bellwood convict camp, the negro was trailed to Armour station where, according to witnesses, he boarded a freight train.

Immediate preparations are being made to bring the negro back to Atlanta. Secretary W. T. Morris, of the police committee, probably will leave today or Sunday, armed with requisition papers.

DROUTH IS BROKEN IN MIDDLE GEORGIA BY HEAVY RAINFALL

Macon, Ga., September 25.—(Special.)—The drouth that has prevailed throughout this section was relieved by a drenching rain last night. More than one-half inch was recorded at Macon, while other sections nearby reported a fall of from one to two inches.

Albany and Cordle report heavy rains and Statesboro and Guyton, farther southeast, also reported that the drouth situation was relieved by copious rains.

The rain in Macon fell slowly and continued for several hours. The extreme heat wave that has held this section in its grip for some time was relieved by the rain.

Former Atlanta Medical Man Shares in New Cancer Method

Announcement of a new discovery which medical men predict will eliminate surgery in cancer cases to a great extent may bring into the limelight of the scientific world a former Atlanta man, Dr. Max Cutler, of New York city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cutler, of 177 Atlanta avenue.

Dr. Cutler, with his co-worker in cancer research work, Dr. Douglas Quick, made the first announcement Friday before the American Roentgen Ray society of the treatment by placing gold sealed tubes containing "radon," a gas derived from radium emanations, directly in the cancer and left there, according to a press dispatch published in Friday's issue of The Constitution.

The discovery may revolutionize treatment of cancerous growths, especially those near the body surface, it is predicted. Substitution of gold tubes for glass tubes which have been formerly used in holding the "radon," was made because of the greater filtering power of gold.

Four Former Chicago Officers Are Ordered Into Custody and Put Under Heavy Bail.

LARGE SUMS PAID TO GET PRIVILEGES

Ex-Jail Warden, Who Boasted of Being "An Honest Cop," Declared Ringleader.

Chicago, September 25.—(AP)—Terrence Druggan and Frank Lake, dapper young men of the sleek type, reputed to have become millionaires through trading in illicit beverages, today told Federal Judge Wilkerson tales of wholesale bribery of Cook county jail officials who, in return, granted them unusual privileges.

As a result of their statements four officials were ordered into custody pending Judge Wilkerson's decision in a contempt hearing involving Druggan, Lake and six officials.

They are: Wesley H. Westbrook, former jail warden, lawyer and for 28 years a Chicago policeman, whose proudest boast had been that he was "an honest cop."

Henry Foerst, formerly Westbrook's secretary.

Hans Thompson, former assistant warden.

James Fitzgerald, former jail guard.

Put Under $5,000 Bail.

Westbrook, described by two physicians as sick mentally and physically, was ordered placed under $5,000 bail, to be accounted for tomorrow morning, and bail was placed at $3,000 each for Foerst and Thompson. None was fixed for Fitzgerald, as he had not been involved in the Druggan-Lake story of bribery.

A compilation of figures from the testimony of Druggan and Lake indicated the following payments: Westbrook: $2,000 a month, paid in amounts of $1,000 on the 1st and 10th of the month from April through August, last; $2,000 for granting Lake $2 days off his sentence of one year; $1,500 for granting Druggan a "good time."

Payments to Foerst.

Foerst: $1,000 for obtaining from Westbrook authorization to transfer Lake from a cell to a hospital ward; $1,500 for taking Lake to visit a sister sick in a hospital, and to her father; $2,500 or $3,500 for obtaining assignment of Druggan and Lake to the hospital, after Lake had been sent back to a cell; $100 a day for four or five days paid to Druggan; $100 for taking Lake to visit another sister who was ill, and $500 from Lake the day of his sister's funeral.

Thompson: $1,000 a month for several months, paid by Lake and Druggan on the 1st and 10th of each month.

Lake denied that he ever had paid money to Peter Hoffman, sheriff.

Denies Getting Money.

Westbrook, on the witness stand yesterday, denied that he ever had received money from Lake and Druggan. He was to testify further today, but was unable to appear.

He, along with the other three ordered held by Judge Wilkerson, was discharged after newspapers disclosed the favors shown the youthful "beer barons," after Druggan had beaten a reporter while he was held by Thomas Brockmeyer, who succeeded Westbrook for a few days as warden.

After his arrest today, Thompson was reported to have made a confession to the district attorney's office. No statement was announced, but Thompson was said to have remarked "I never had any money."

AIRSHIP CRASH DUE TO FAILURE OF GAS CELLS

Chief Rigger of Shenandoah Tells Board of Inquiry He Heard Cells Give Way Prior to Crash

SAW END COMING, INSPECTOR SAYS

One Witness Is Positive That He Actually Saw Ship Break Forward of Its Middle Portion.

Lakehurst, N. J., September 25.—(AP)—A failure of several of the helium gas cells in the airship Shenandoah before she began to break up was testified to today before the naval court of inquiry by James H. Collier, chief rigger who had supervision over those cells.

Collier's testimony was in sharp contrast to that of a dozen other survivors all of whom declared they saw no signs that any of the cells had failed under the enormous pressure, to which they had been put when the craft reached an extreme altitude of 6,000 feet.

The chief rigger was positive in his declarations. He said he was off duty and asleep when the airship was sucked into the vortex of the storm. When he was awakened he looked at No. 9 gas cell, and saw that it was about 30 per cent deflated, and also saw that several gas bags forward were deflated probably equally as much.

No. 8 cell was "100 per cent and then some full."

Knew Doom At Hand.

"I knew the ship was done for then," he declared, adding that this was before he had heard any noise of the ship's structure giving away.

His declaration immediately led to sharp questioning.

"Did you hear any sound of the ship breaking up before you saw that the gas cell was deflated?" asked Captain Paul Foley, the judge-advocate.

"No, sir," the witness replied. "Number 9 bag was deflating when I woke up, and I heard no sounds of breakage until I was out on the keel of the ship going aft."

Collier said that after he observed the condition of the bags he told a fellow member of the crew in a nearby bunk that the ship was gone, explaining later that the condition of the bags led him to believe that a loss of helium was responsible for the swift fall the Shenandoah then was taking.

"Does your experience teach you that if one gas bag is 30 per cent deflated it means the ship is lost?" asked Rear Admiral Jones, president of the court.

"In view of the fact that the other

Slaton Named Regional Head Of Vet Bureau

Succeeds M. Bryson, Recently Transferred to Washington.

Washington, September 25.—(AP)—John M. Slaton, Jr., formerly a training officer of the veterans bureau, today was appointed regional manager of the Atlanta division.

Mr. Slaton, named in the above dispatch, is the nephew of former Governor and Mrs. John M. Slaton, of Atlanta. For a number of years he has been connected with the veterans bureau here and recently when M. Bryson, director of the fifth district, was transferred to Washington, he became acting director.

Mr. Slaton is president of the Junior chamber of commerce, prominent in civic affairs and widely known throughout this section.

"HOME BANKS" KEEP $450,000,000 FROM CIRCULATION

Washington, September 25.—The old-fashioned, home-style money repositories are still giving the banks a run for it.

In the "first national banks," mantlepiece vases, the place under the rug and the various other hiding places in the homes of the nation, is hoarded more than $450,000,000, treasury department officials estimate.

First in the list of those having little use for banks is the foreigner, who has tucked away somewhere close to $250,000,000. The rural population comes next and is said to keep close to $125,000,000 out of circulation.

Genuine misers estimated to number 8,000 have about $44,000,000 while $1,500,000 are in some 2,500,000 children's banks.

Half of the amount hoarded is gold, while silver and pennies represent about $50,000,000.

ORGANIZED WOMEN WILL BACK BONDS TO IMPROVE CITY

Mrs. Norman Sharp, Head of Woman's Club, Calls Meeting To Begin Fight for Bonds.

Women of Atlanta will be organized to back big improvements for Atlanta and the first step in this direction will be taken at a mass meeting to be held at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at the auditorium when the necessity of carrying out the bond issue program announced by Mayor Walter A. Sims will be discussed.

This program calls for submission at an early date of bond issues for two new viaducts, extensions and improvement of sewer, construction of a new city hall and completion of the city school building program.

Mrs. Norman Sharp, president of the Atlanta Woman's club, issued the call for the mass meeting and all women of Atlanta have been invited to attend. Mrs. Sharp declared that the time had arrived for women of Atlanta to perfect an organization which will promote and support big programs for civic improvement.

"Right now we urgently need the new city hall, the new viaducts, the improvement and extension of the sewer system and the completion of the comprehensive system of schools," Mrs. Sharp said. "These things must be obtained if we are to take Atlanta forward to its true destiny. I feel with the active and militant help of the women of Atlanta we can move forward to new and greater things."

Leaders To Speak.

Four speakers will appear on the program at the mass meeting. George H. Boynton, president of the Atlanta Improvement association, will outline some of the plans that have been formed for carrying out the suggested improvements. Mrs. R. K. Rambo, president of the Atlanta Woman's club, will speak on the necessity of building the new city hall. The school needs of the city will be discussed by Mrs. George H. Bowman, president of the Parent-Teacher association.

The necessity of constructing viaducts over the railroad tracks at Pryor street and Central avenue will be discussed by Mrs. Irving Thomas, past president of the Woman's club and Mrs. Samuel Inman, who has been active in the promotion of an art museum, will speak on the need of developing the cultural side of life in Atlanta.

Mrs. Sharp stated that she hoped all the women of Atlanta would accept the invitation to attend the mass meeting. While it was called by the Woman's club it is open to all the women of the city and they are urged to attend, according to Mrs. Sharp.

"Atlanta is confronted with a crisis," Mrs. Sharp said. "This city either must go forward or backward. There is no middle ground. Atlanta's remarkable growth has rendered many of her facilities inadequate. We must provide not only for the needs of the present population, but for the city of 500,000 people which eventually will exist here."

"There is on foot a plan to raise money to advertise Atlanta but before we can go forth into the world and urge people to move to Atlanta we must prepare to receive them. We must enlarge our schools to take care of the new families coming here. We must build the new viaducts to take care of the increased traffic. We must improve and extend our sewer

TWO MEET DEATH IN TWO ACCIDENTS

Infant Killed in Fall From Bed Onto Bottle. 11-Year-Old Boy Killed in Fall in Viaduct.

Two children died in Atlanta Friday as the result of two accidents.

A fall from a bed onto a bottle early Friday caused the death of Mary Jane Wilson, aged nine months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Wilson, of 5 Kennesaw avenue. The baby had been given its bottle by her mother, who left the room. Later she heard the child scream and returned to find her lying on the floor with cuts and bruises on the head.

The baby was hurried to St. Joseph's hospital, where she died two hours later. It is believed by parents that the child dropped the bottle and leaned out of the bed too far, and fell.

Besides her parents she is survived by three sisters, Ruth, Rose Lorraine and Beatrice Wilson; five brothers, Jerome, John, James W., Jr., Edward and Richard Wilson, and her grandmother, Mrs. Rose M. Wrigley. The Caillaux as Much Shocked at Mellon Proposal as Mellon Was at That Which Caillaux Made.

ANOTHER MEETING TO BE HELD MONDAY

Next Move in Game of Proposal and Counter Proposal Is Up To Delegation From France.

MILLIONS DIVIDING DEBT NEGOTIATORS

Washington, September 25.—Millions of dollars divide the American and French ideas of how much France should pay the United States on account of her war debts.

Both commissions recognize 62 years as the proper period for annuities. The French offered to begin paying $25,000,000 a year, to be increased to $30,000,000, and again increased between $45,000,000 and $50,000,000 from the tenth to the twentieth year of the agreement. Thereafter, the annual payments would be increased progressively until they reached $90,000,000.

The Americans are willing to accept a small payment for the first ten years, something between $25,000,000 and $50,000,000. But, thereafter they want the French payments to average $129,000,000 a year.

BY LYLE C. WILSON.

Washington, September 25.—France has been invited to fund her entire debt of $4,200,000,000 to the United States on substantially the same terms as were granted Belgium in funding that country's post-armistice debt.

Members of the American debt commission estimate that under such an agreement France would pay an average annuity of $129,000,000 after a period of years, probably 10, during which reduced payments would be accepted. Payment would begin at once and would be completed in 62 years. The American counter proposals shocked the French even more than the French proposals of Friday surprised the Americans. In Caillaux's own words:

"Mr. Mellon's counter-proposal has caused further reflection."

Next Session Monday.

This reflection may be prolonged, for after several telephone calls from Senator Smoot and Secretary Mellon to the French embassy Friday, Caillaux finally informed the Americans that their plan to hold another joint session at 10 a. m. Saturday would be impossible, and that Saturday night or Sunday would be the earliest moment at which the French commission could come to the treasury. The Americans would not meet Sunday, so the next meeting may not be until Monday.

America's proposition to France was stated in three typewritten pages, two of which listed the American objections to the French proposal. The third page was given over entirely to the suggestion that the French accept a funding basis such as was accepted by the Belgians.

Caillaux immediately left for the embassy, where Mellon's statement

$1,000,000 Fall and Winter Stock Is Offered by High's In Big Anniversary Sale

Choice Selections From New York and Foreign Markets Will Be at Call of Atlanta People.

One million dollars worth of new fall and winter merchandise will be offered to the public in the forty-third anniversary week sale of J. M. High company beginning Monday, it was announced Friday by W. H. Brittain, president.

This year's fall and winter sale is being offered as an indication of the confidence of J. M. High company in the increased prosperity for the coming season, and in celebration of the success of the recent reorganization and mutualization of the business, Mr. Brittain said.

Choice selections from New York and foreign markets will be offered Atlantaans, Mr. Brittain said. "High company sells no seconds or sub merchandise with the single exception of certain stocks offered in the economy basement, and these are plainly marked as such. The public is assured of brand new high class goods and their money's worth."

Seventy-five extra salespeople have been employed to serve during the anniversary sale, which starts promptly at 9 o'clock Monday morning. All customers are promised quick and efficient service by Mr. Brittain.

Since the reorganization last spring, J. M. High company has become a member of a New York buying syndicate, consisting of 50 stores with a buying power of over $100,000,000 annually with the best American and foreign connections. "Our buyers were particularly fortunate this year in their purchases," Mr. Brittain said, "reaching New York at a time when manufacturers and merchants there were pessimistic on account of the long hot spell. The manufacturers and merchants were willing to trade, and we are now able to report the greatest outpouring of special values in all of this company's 43 years of trading."

Mr. Brittain is particularly enthusiastic over the success of the recent reorganization, with the incorporation of the mutualizing or cooperative plan. "This spirit at work in modern business and industry cannot fail to prove greatly beneficial in social as well as business life," he said.

New Organization.

The new organization includes as officers, Mr. Brittain, president; G.

C. Jones, vice president and treasurer; Paul Jones, superintendent and secretary, and the following employees as co-workers of the business together with the officers:

Howard McCollum, assistant merchandise manager; J. E. Collier, buyer fancy goods, leather goods, gloves, hosiery; W. C. Perkins, buyer linens, beddings, wash goods, men's furnishings; W. E. Hopkins, buyer art goods, art needlework and notions; K. C. McDowell, buyer china and glassware; Knox Finley, manager; Mrs. A. T. Royer, buyer women's ready-to-wear dresses, coats, furs, suits; Aaron Kahanow and W. J. Loiz, buyers silks, woollens, dress trimmings; Robert Haynie, buyer and manager the economy basement; Mrs. J. Barck, millinery; Mrs. M. Lark, children's infants wear, muslin underwear; Mrs. J. H. Lumpkin, buyer corsets and brassieres; Harold Short, buyer and manager rugs, draperies, furniture; J. J. Hempley, assistant; L. J. King, expert interior decorator; H. P. Baker, manager shoes; Messrs. Essig and Flynn, boys department; H. H. Hickman, ladies hair cutting shop, and Mrs. Murray and Mrs. Crawford, Marlinette shop.

Founded by J. M. High.

The business was founded by J. M. High in a modest way at 50 Whitehall street with 10 salespeople. The store soon outgrew its quarters, and a new building was erected at Whitehall and Hunter streets on the site of the present E. & W. Grand store. Seven years later the continued growth of the business necessitated removal to the present quarters, the southeastern corner of Whitehall and Hunter streets.

The Robinson Furniture company was recently acquired by J. M. High company, the new purchase adjoining the High store on Hunter street. About a year and a half ago, the High company secured possession of the old Vandette theater. This was remodeled and made into an exclusive silk and woolen goods section. It is now one of the finest silk stores in the south. A special feature of the silk room is its excellent daylight lighting system. In fact, High's is known as "The Daylight Store," using very few artificial lights on the first floor.

FRENCH GET U. S. VIEWS ON DEBT

has translated, and since then he has been in virtually continuous conference with his colleagues.

Whatever comes during the next week, Caillaux will leave for France on schedule, October 2. He made that plain at the embassy.

"Some American papers have suggested that I would remain longer in your country," he said.

"Believe me, there is no power in the world to prevent my leaving on October 3. I must meet my parliament."

Responsible to Parliament.

Caillaux's statement recalls the fact, rather lost sight of in Washington, that he, like the American commissioners, is responsible to an elective body, and that unlike the Coolidge administration, the Painleve government, which Caillaux belongs, could be turned out of office in a moment by a vote of no confidence. Caillaux, however, has full powers and can enter into any agreement. The question is whether or not the French parliament would ratify it. If it did not, Caillaux would be out of office, automatically.

To say that the first French proposal was unacceptable to the Americans or that Friday's proposal is unacceptable to the French is misleading, as the initial offers in these negotiations are like the beginning of a horse trade, with each trader taking a position from which he is almost certain to be driven in the direction of a compromise if any trade is to be consummated.

No Sign of Rupture.

There is no sign of a rupture of negotiations, but the commissioners are far apart, as was clearly indicated by the long faces of some of the French commissioners when they emerged from the joint conference room Friday morning.

Aside from the matter of maximum payments mentioned in the first French proposal, which Caillaux did not expect the American commissioners to agree to, there is another major point to which the Americans object. This is the French insistence that they be protected in the funding agreement by a clause which would provide for revision of debt payment schedules in the event Germany should default on her obligations under the Dawes plan.

The French proposition is not so bald as that. It asks, as was explained in these dispatches Thursday night, that if, in the future, the French currency to pay should be adversely affected by unforeseen conditions, there should be a revision downward of the scale of payments.

Terms Given to Belgians.

In announcing the funding of the Belgian post-armistice debt last month, the treasury stated the situation as follows:

"Repayment of the post-armistice debt (Belgian), amounting to date to about $240,000,000, has been arranged on the general lines accorded to other countries. Installments on principal are spread over a period of 12 years and the rate of interest is to be 3 1/2 per cent, beginning at the end of five years, as in other cases. In this case, however, interest payments during the first 10 years have been graduated in fixed amounts."

This suggested basis for a settlement of the French debt differs from the settlement made with the British only with regard to interest payments during the first 10 years after settlement. The special consideration shown the Belgians with regard to their post-armistice debt because of certain promises made by President Wilson during the negotiations at Versailles, of course, does not apply to the French debt in any way, and the American counter-proposal looks toward lumping pre-armistice and post-armistice French obligations into one debt to be retired as a single obligation. This suggested settlement would be accepted by congress, according to the view of the American commissioners, and every concession they make from it is expected to increase the difficulty on Capitol Hill.

Must Make Concessions.

The two proposals, however, merely represent the statement of the opposing points of view, and from that point there must be mutual concessions if agreement is to be reached. Therefore, the American counter-proposal cannot be taken as final, although the American commissioners will endeavor to stick as closely to it as possible.

As the negotiations stand now, the American and French views as to maximum payments do not agree. They are far apart, the French having mentioned $300,000,000 as their top figure for annual payments. As to the payments during the first 10 years, there is not likely to be any real difficulty. These early payments would be somewhere between $25,000,000 and $50,000,000 annually, which would make the added French burden, under such an agreement as proposed, not more than $300,000,000 for the entire 10 years, as France already pays $200,000,000 annual interest charges for sums obtained under the armistice.

Congressmen Pessimistic.

So far the congressional members of the American commission—Senators Smoot and Representatives Theodore E. Burton and Charles R. Crisp—have been the most pessimistic regarding the progress of the negotiations, as they realize there is a large bloc in congress which desires the French to pay as the British paid.

Senator Borah's attitude on the question has been demonstrated to be that the French can and should pay on the British terms, and that if they are not required to do so, they merely will put additional funds into armaments and into the production of the war against Abd-el-Krim in Morocco, a war which is repugnant to Borah.

OPTIMISM DISPLAYED BY FRENCH NEWSPAPERS.

Paris, September 25.—(AP)—Optimism is displayed by the French newspapers over the debt negotiations at Washington.

The exchange of speeches yesterday between Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and M. Caillaux, the French finance minister, which are described everywhere as cordial and sincere, although business-like and without sentimental elements, have cleared the atmosphere of the pessimism reigning the last few days.

The Temps says that a conciliatory spirit by the United States was plainly manifest and that the chances of an equitable settlement are improved. The nation's paper La Liberté objects to France being asked to pay gold when the Dawes plan reparations from Germany are in coal and dyestuffs.

The Journal Des Debats says that military intervention by the United States cost the American treasury dear, but that it also brought immense profits which should be taken into consideration.

BORAH ASKS INFORMATION ABOUT PRIVATE LOANS.

Washington, September 25.—Senator William E. Borah apparently is preparing for a finish fight against ratification of any funding agreement for the French debt which does not compel the French to pay on the terms accepted by the British.

Borah believes that if the French debt commission agrees to fund the debt, it will immediately begin negotiations to obtain a private loan in Wall street. His attack probably will be launched against agreements whereby creditors pay the United States government small interest rates, and then cheerfully agree to the interest charges twice as large for sums obtained from private sources.

Asks Mellon For Information.

In a letter to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Friday, Borah asked for information on "private loans" which have been negotiated to foreign countries and industries during the year to the amount of one billion dollars.

"May I ask whether your department has accurate information relative to these loans, both to those which have been made and to those which are now in process? If so, I would greatly appreciate a list of the loans, by whom negotiated, the countries making the loans, and particularly the rate of interest they bear, and such other information, or facts, as may be available, disclosing the terms in detail of the different transactions."

The information that loans to the extent of $1,000,000,000 had been made and that a "flood of loans to Europe" is in prospect, came to Borah, he said in his letter, from press dispatches.

BEER BARONS TELL OF GROSS BRIBERY

"I saw everybody else getting theirs, so I thought I would get mine."

Privileged drunk Druggan included 80 or 90 visits to his dentist, Dr. Franklin R. Percival, who received $3,200 for dental work from Druggan, $1,500 from Lake and $250 from Westbrook. Upon those occasions, Dr. Percival testified, he would work not more than 10 minutes at a time upon Druggan's teeth, and Druggan would spend the remainder of the time in a smoking room which was equipped as an office. The visits would last usually from four to six hours.

Druggan denied that he visited cabarets or saw his wife in their apartment in an exclusive building. He admitted he made some purchases, visited a safety deposit box, and took long walks while out of the jail several times, mostly for dental work, and his payments were mostly for transfers from cells to hospital wards, visits to sick relatives, and for the computation of his "good time."

Examination Incomplete.

Examinations of Lake and Druggan had not been completed when court adjourned tonight.

Both of them were ordered held in the federal building and not returned to jail until after completion of their testimony. The hearing will be resumed Monday.

Druggan and Lake were sentenced to serve one year each for contempt of Judge Wilkerson's court, in that they operated one of their breweries after Judge Wilkerson had ordered it padlocked.

In addition to the contempt proceedings, there has been indication that Judge Wilkerson might also direct conspiracy charges against all those instrumental in assisting Druggan and Lake in any manner that prevented them serving their year each in the isolation usually associated with jail sentences.

TECH PRIES LID AGAINST OGLETHORPE TODAY

Tech's Yellow Jackets and Where They Swarm Today in Opener of 1925 Season.

Three O'Clock Is Starting Hour

BY GEORGE CONGDON.

The tocsin of Atlanta's 1925 football season will sound at 3 o'clock this afternoon across Tech flats when the referee's whistle signals the kickoff for the annual opening bone-breaking affray between Tech's Yellow Jackets and the Oglethorpe Petrels. With that shrill whistle southern fans turn to the sport that—if gate turnstiles don't lie scandalously—is nearest their heart.

The game should be like no other Tech-Oglethorpe opener. Oglethorpe showed its approach to eminence last season by whaling Sewanee, that beat Vanderbilt, that beat Minnesota, the musty doopsheets dragged out of last year's pigeonhole tell us. The same crowd has been putting in a month of work under the able Coach Harry Robertson this fall.

CATARH NEGLECTED CAUSES DEAFNESS

Read How You May Get Rid of It by a Safe Reliable Way.

If you have catarrh you are in danger of losing your hearing; the first symptoms of catarrh of the ears are roaring or buzzing sensations and a stopped-up feeling in the ears. A neglected cold, or an unhealed cold, leads to catarrh, and as everybody knows catarrh affects the eyes, ears, nose, throat, lungs and frequently undermines the general health.

The secret of the successful medication of these hidden parts was discovered by Dr. Blosser in his medical practice. This remedy is applied by smoking a certain combination of medical herbs (containing tobacco) in a pipe or cigarette. Dr. Blosser's Remedy produces a dense smoke vapour which is inhaled or forced into the Eustachian tubes leading to the middle ear. It penetrates to parts impossible to reach with buns, salves, sprays, douches, pills, tablets, liquids and so-called "constitutional treatments." This Remedy is absolutely harmless and is being used successfully by men, women and children.

You can get from any drug store a convenient pocket-size package of Dr. Blosser's Cigarettes and prove for yourself their pleasant beneficial results.—(adv.)

Tech's 1925 Yellow Jackets and the immense stadium of Grant field where they swarm today at 3 o'clock against the Oglethorpe Petrels in Atlanta's football opener. This splendid picture of the stadium shows the original concrete stands on the right, the newer concrete stands on the left and the latest addition, the big endpiece, just completed. The stadium will seat approximately 40,000 people. The entire Tech varsity squad is pictured below. In the picture, left to right are: Front row, Crowley, Fair, Erwin, Carpenter, Martin, Poole, Diamond, Forrester, Angley, Harlow and Norfleet; middle row, Elliott, Thrash, Sprick, Brewer, Captain Wycoff, John Murray, Williams, Holland, Lillard, Reed, Wright, Cad Carson; back row, Cooper, Hood, Sam Murray, Connelly, McRae, Barron, Merkle, Marshall, Rauber, Jamieson, Gaston, Williamson and Hearn.

best last fall, including Sewanee and Mercer.

Open New Stadium.

To the football crowds today Tech will open its completed "U" stadium. From a humble beginning with concrete stands on the west side of the big space, the Tech stadium has grown to the "U," with modern stands on the east and south that put the comparatively recent west stands in the light of things antiquated. The newest part of Tech's stadium is the south end, with its curving row upon row of modern seats, matching perfectly the long, straight rows of the east stands. Forty thousand people it will take to fill these enormous stands.

Today's opening clash will not be one of substitutes. It will be a real test of early-season strength of the two sets of 11 men, one crowd in the gold and white and the other in the black and gold. It will be the latest real struggle of Oglethorpe to gain a victory over the always conquering Tech. For Tech it means the upholding of the tradition that Oglethorpe must first be handed something in the way of a defeat before Tech can look further on its imposing schedule of Alabama, Florida, Notre Dame, Vanderbilt, Penn State, Georgia and Auburn.

To turn out a victory in the opener Coach W. A. Alexander probably will send his seasoned squad of last year into the battle. This outfit includes the following men for his opening line-up:

Merkle and Marshall, ends. Tharpe and Carpenter, tackles. Godwin and Forrester, guards. Poole, center.

Williams, Murray, Barron and Captain Wycoff, fullbacks. Merkle and Marshall are two of the greatest ends the south has developed in recent years. Merkle has the speed of a bullet and Marshall is second only to Merkle in covering specified distances in the smallest amount of time. Tharpe was a tackle last year who made critics everywhere he was seen sit up and notice him. Carpenter, last year's guard, has become another Tharpe, if scrimmage is evidence of strength and power. Godwin and Forrester played guard to perfection last year, and Poole is the one outstanding center of the squad.

Two good punters, Wycoff and Murray, are in the backfield, and Murray is a power at kicking, as is Wycoff, who also has run to football fame as a halfback. Barron is much more the finished back than he was last year, and Williams, who last year ran at half, will probably do that today, in addition to calling signals.

An imposing array of football warriors but scarcely more so than the 11 men picked for the opener by Coach Robertson. Oglethorpe's opening line-up will be as follows:

Nix and Carroll, ends. Corless and Cooper, tackles. Justus and Hardin, guards. Captain Parrish, center.

Campbell, White, Maurer and Kilgore, backs.

Nix and Carroll were Petrel stars last season, as were Corless and Cooper and all four are linemen of considerable ability among linemen from these parts. Godwin and Forrester couldn't make a tougher pair

"UNCLE DUDLEY" PREDICTS SCORES

Friday's mail to the sporting department brought to H. C. Hamilton, general column of The Constitution's sports column, a letter from one who appeared to be a veteran follower of sports and who signed himself "Uncle Dudley." It read:

"I make this prediction. Watch it. Scores Saturday will be: Tech 20, Oglethorpe 0. Georgia 14, Mercer 0. Yours sincerely, 'Uncle Dudley.'"

Put this in your hat band and see if "Uncle Dudley" can out-Fullerton the famous Hugh.

of guards than Justus and Hardin. Captain Clay Parrish at center is the bulwark of Oglethorpe's line. He and Maurer are probably the two most finished and most valuable football players Oglethorpe has ever turned out.

Campbell at quarter showed his speed and his brains last season, while Maurer, Adrian Maurer, compels the attention of every one who watches him go through on off tackle plays and skirt the ends. C. C. White is a suitable running mate for Maurer and Kilgore has become known as a peerless fullback in southern college company.

There they are stacked up on paper, making a poor football field, the weirdest kind of a sport when figuring the strength of two teams. For the result of the clash it is best to see these two Atlanta gridiron squads in their opening tilt today.

MOULTRIE BEATS PELHAM ELEVEN

Moultrie, Ga.—(Special).—Moultrie ran roughshod over Pelham here today in the first football game of the season, winning easily by the score of 39 to 0. The Moultrie Wildcats played only straight football throughout the game, the whole team being in fine shape, considering the early season. Moultrie will play Fitzgerald next Friday.

MRS. H. H. BROWN SLIGHTLY INJURED IN CAR ACCIDENT

Marietta, Ga., September 25.—(Special).—Mrs. Herbert H. Brown, of Atlanta, is in a local hospital, suffering from painful injuries received Thursday night, when an automobile in which she and her husband were riding, was struck by a Marietta street car. The accident occurred near Marietta.

Mr. Brown was driving the automobile, and it is said that once the wheels held to the rail and was struck by an oncoming trolley car before the automobile could be steered from the track, causing Mrs. Brown to be thrown through the windshield. Mr. Brown escaped with slight scratches.

Pirates, Senators Turn Thoughts To World Series

New York, September 25.—(AP).—Now that the outcome of the National and American league pennant races has become a mathematical certainty, Pittsburgh and Washington are free to concentrate their efforts upon preparation for the annual baseball classic, which starts at Pittsburgh Wednesday, October 7.

Clinching of the pennants almost simultaneously and a fortnight before the close of the major league seasons is a sharp contrast to the closeness of both races last year which left the outcome in doubt until the final few days of the campaigns. The contending rivals this season have ample time in which to give overworked veterans a needed rest, patch up injuries and map out their battle strategy.

There may be a little less "masterminding" than usual in this year's series, with John McGraw of the Giants missing from the picture for the first time in five years, but McGraw's processes may be given a counterpart by Fred Clarke, veteran adviser to the Pittsburgh forces. Clarke who was winning pennants with the old Pirates when McGraw first took the first of these teams, is credited with having done much of the deep thinking for the new National league champions.

Clarke and Bill McKechnie, manager of the Pirates, will have a nimble-minded opponent in Stanley (Bucky) Harris, who has established himself as a strategist of the first rank in spite of his youth. Harris was just learning to swing a bat on the sand lots of his home town, Pittston, Pa., when Clarke was leading the Pirates to their last pennant in 1909.

"Big Three" Elevens Idle As Grid Season Opens

New York, September 25.—(AP).—The first offensive of the annual football campaign takes place tomorrow with college battle fronts extended to all parts of the country.

The majority of leading elevens throughout the gridiron sphere will swing their forces into action then, although the number of notable exceptions, including the teams of the western conference and the eastern "big three." These outfits will have their first tests in a combat a week from tomorrow. In the east, however, such outstanding institutions as Pennsylvania, Cornell, Dartmouth, Syracuse, Pittsburgh, West Virginia, Colgate, Holy Cross, Rutgers, Lafayette and Columbia open their drives.

Notre Dame, 1924 national champions, figures in the middle west's list of certain raised to the California undefeated for five years, helps start off the season on the Pacific coast, and the south's leading hopes, partly rested in such teams as Georgia Tech and Auburn, set off on the chalk-marked trail.

Some Real Struggles. With exceptions, east and west, the opening battles will amount chiefly to preliminary skirmishes; tests against comparatively minor opposition. For the major elevens which are focussing their main attention on later clashes in traditional or inter-sectional rivals, the season's opening is a week of hard fought with special interest centering in showing of the new front line forces which Notre Dame will send in to battle for the first.

Among the upstate rivals of New York, Cornell begins the season at Ithaca, against Susquehanna, which should not offer serious opposition, despite the pessimistic outlook of Coach Gil Dobie. Syracuse opens against Hobart, while Colgate tackles Canisius of Buffalo, in other up-state headliners.

Columbia, starting under the tutelage of Charles Cornell, a disciple of Houghton and Rockne, will be watched in her opening contest against Haverford.

"Little Three" Active. Dartmouth, co-holder of the eastern football laurels with Yale and Pennsylvania last year, begins another promising season against Norwich, while Brown, facing the most formidable schedule of her career, gives her machine an initial test against Rhode Island State.

The "little three" also swings into action with Williams, Wesleyan opposing Hamilton, Wesleyan opposing Connecticut Aggies and Amherst facing Rochester.

Pennsylvania, pointing toward a succession of difficult battles later with Brown, Yale, Chicago and Illinois takes on Indiana for preliminary testing while Penn State, grooming for big games at home with Notre Dame and Michigan Aggies, has Lebanon Valley for opening opposition.

West Virginia goes away from home to begin her campaign against Allegheny at Erie, Pa., while "Uncle Charlie" Moran's Bucknell eleven takes on Western Maryland.

FORT BLISS WINS MATCH

Philadelphia, September 25.—(AP).—The Fort Bliss polo team of El Paso, Texas, today advanced to the final round of the tournament for the 12th annual championship of the United States by defeating the Fort Leavenworth quartet of Kansas, 8 to 6. The visitors will meet the winners of the Midwest-Meadowbrook match, scheduled for tomorrow, in the final round Monday.

TUNNEY KAYOS MADDEN IN 3RD

Minneapolis, September 25.—(AP).—Gene Tunney, New York heavyweight, established himself as the foremost contender for Jack Dempsey's crown when he knocked out Bartley Madden, heavyweight trial horse, in the third round of a scheduled 10-round bout here tonight.

The end came after a little more than two minutes of fighting when Tunney backed Madden into a corner, gained his opening with a left jab and then crossed a crushing right to Madden's jaw. Topping over on his back, Madden was barely able to rise at the count of nine and a short left hook again sprawled him on the floor, face downward, where he strove ineffectually to rise before he was counted out.

Tunney weighed 186 pounds and Madden 189.

COMPSTAN WINS BRITISH MEET

Moor Park, England, September 25.—(AP).—Arthur Compston defeated George Gadd in the final round of the professional match play golf tournament 2 up and 1 to play.

GUILTY TRAINMEN TO BE PROSECUTED

Chattanooga, Tenn., September 25.—When the board of inquiry, which will be named by officers of the Atlanta division of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, fixes responsibility for the wreck of the Dixie Flyer and Dixie Express, near Worley, yesterday afternoon, the guilty parties will probably be prosecuted on the charge of manslaughter.

Attorney General George W. Chambliss stated tonight that as soon as the condition of J. H. Green, engineer of the express, is such as to permit an interview, he will be asked to explain the disaster. General Chambliss stated that the laws in this state regarding carelessness of common carriers are very strict, and if any member of the crew of the express is responsible, he will be made to answer for the death of Mrs. H. C. Byers, of Clifton, Miss., killed in the wreck.

Responsibility for the collision rests with the crew of the Dixie Express, southbound, which was operating as the second section of train No. 95, F. M. Kelsey, superintendent of the local terminals and of the Chattanooga division of the N. & C. St. L., announced today.

Of the 50 injured, only 10 remained in the hospital tonight, seven of these being members of the train crew. The condition of Engineer Green was reported as serious. Others in the hospital are T. L. Hamby, of Atlanta, engineer of the Flyer, and J. H. Austin, traveling engineer of the road, who has a broken leg. He was on the express train, the crew of which is said to have disobeyed orders to pass the Flyer.

Crews are still working on the wreck, although the fine was opened to traffic early this morning.

No resignation of the wreck will be made by railroad officials here, this action being in the jurisdiction of the Atlanta division.

HYLAN IS RECEPTIVE TO INDEPENDENT RACE

New York, September 25.—(AP).—The fight for New York's majority race took a swift turn today, when Mayor Hylan, defeated for the democratic nomination September 15, by State Senator James J. Walker, assured a group of his supporters at city hall that he would give serious consideration to their petition that he run on an independent ticket.

His assurance was a distinct departure from his attitude after the primary, when he said that he was through with politics. Since then, however, the mayor has been importuned by a several independent political organizations to make the race on his own ticket.

Today delegates from the progressive party, the Hyman Five-cent Club and independent democrats of the Bronx called upon the mayor at his office and assured him of their support if he would run independently. In the meanwhile, he had been conferring with other of his adherents who told him there was an insistent demand that he run on a third ticket.

In his address before the delegates the mayor told of his work for the past eight years and reported his charges that he was opposed by corrupt interests. He then concluded:

"I had hoped that I could retire to private life and have a little peace and comfort in my remaining years at least. But I will give due and proper consideration to your appeal here today. I will give it serious consideration."

The mayor has until October 6 to decide whether or not to run, as nominating petitions must be in by that date.

The recent campaign cost the Hyman committee $91,196. The committee reported to the board of elections today that $88,608 had been received in contributions, leaving a deficit of $2,588. The largest contribution came from William Randolph Hearst, the mayor's chief supporter, and Philip Berolzheimer, city chamberlain, each of whom gave $25,000.

The mayor's followers believe that he can be induced to run for re-election if sufficient public pressure can be brought to bear.

LA GRANGE HI BEATS AGGIES

LaGrange, Ga., September 25.—(Special).—LaGrange high school opened the football season here this afternoon with an easy 34-to-0 victory over Carrollton A. and M. The locals used the second and third teams the larger portion of the game. The varsity went in five minutes before the half and again in the third. Albright's broken field running featured. The Aggies' line held like a wall against local attacks, but fumbles played an important part in their defeat. Coach Greshett's entire squad of 40 saw action for LaGrange.

BULLDOGS OPEN WITH BEARS TODAY IN MACON

Kilpatrick May Not Play In Opener; Many Shifts Made by Georgia Coach

BY MARCUS BRYANT.

Athens, Ga., September 25.—(Special.)—The Georgia Bulldogs have departed from their Athens stronghold for Macon, where Saturday afternoon they battle the Mercer Bears in the opening game of the season. The contest will also dedicate Mercer's magnificent new stadium.

Thirty-five Bulldogs, accompanied by Coach Woodruff, Meade and Crowley made the trip. The squad includes Captain Thompson, Curran, Vangiesen, Woodall, Martin, Lewis, Rogers, Eubanks, Royals, guards: Butler, Forbes, Bell, centers: Luckie, Morris, Carmichael, Blackshear, Smith, Weatherly, Huff, tackles: Moore, Hollis and Broadnax, quarters: Morton, Hatcher, Sherlock, Fleming, McTigue, Kain and Kilpatrick, halves: Holand, Nelson, Wooten and Davis, fullbacks: Manager Sam Woods also will accompany the squad.

The Bulldogs Thursday were sent through a scrimmage against the freshmen and today will run signals and taper off activities prior to making the trip.

The condition of the team is probably as good as the weather conditions permit. The coaches, however, have made every effort to have the team in good shape, but they are by no means pleased with the work.

Deveraux Babin, tackle; Shiver, center, and Estes, a fullback, did not make the trip, due to injuries received in the scrimmages.

Kilpatrick Uncertain. Kilpatrick, halfback, hurt in last Saturday's scrimmage, makes the trip but whether his condition will permit his playing is doubtful. Sherlock, another halfback, is taken and his appearance in the lineup is problematical.

It is impossible to figure on the probable lineup of the Bulldogs. No one should be surprised to find quite a shakeup as the team takes the field against the Bears and it is very probable that many new faces will be seen on the first eleven.

Judging from the shifts made in the lineups of the teams used in the scrimmages, it should not be alarming to find many of the old war horses not in the game as the referee's whistle ushers in the opening campaign. The team to start will be light, and nothing to boast of will be found in their speed.

Predictions on the outcome are useless. The Bulldogs invade the central city with not so good an outlook and Mercer is expected to give them a merry scrap.

"Beat Georgia" is the slogan down Mercer's way, and dedicating the new stadium to the team takes the fight on the gridiron in all athletic history between the schools, they will be all the harder to stop.

ROCKNE FEARS BAYLOR TEAM

Chicago, September 25.—(AP)—

Only gloom prevails at Notre Dame as its end preparation today for its football campaign against Baylor tomorrow at South Bend.

Knute Rockne, who sent his famous cavalry to a national championship last year, expects to lose this season's opener to the Texas. He fears his newly organized squad, with Captain Clem Crowe, the only player of note, is no match for Baylor.

Baylor and other midwest teams, a great removed from their opening campaign, are starting football scrimmages.

GORDON BEATS NEWMAN HIGH

Barnesville, Ga., September 25.—

(Special.)—The entire community joined Mutt Stephens and his "red-headed" gang tonight in celebrating victory in the first game of the season, played here Friday afternoon with the strong Newman team. The score was 13 to 0.

Everybody was well pleased with the result. It has enabled Gordon to overcome stage fright and the team will now go after the scalps of opponents with more confidence. The game with Newman was a good one, line plunging being the main idea used in accomplishing Newman's defeat. Matt, of Gordon, was the star of the game.

BLACK CRACKERS POSTPONE SERIES

BROWNS RALLY WINS.

Washington, September 25.—St. Louis

Generals Tackle Pittsburg In South's Hardest Role

Washington and Lee plays the most ambitious role in southern football today, the Generals going to Pittsburg for an opening game with the Pitt Panthers. Other Dixie outfits are expected to remain at home but all the results of the first contests can not be taken for granted.

Georgia Tech's annual game with Oglethorpe will probably develop into a real contest and the up and coming Mercer team expects to give the Georgia Bulldogs a busy afternoon in Macon.

Wake Forest noted North Carolina out by a single point last year and practice sessions have not indicated that the Deacons have gone back to any extent during the off-season.

Presbyterian College of South Carolina in recent years has contracted the habit of holding the Clemson Tigers to close scores and this game should be well worth while.

Tulane in meeting Louisiana college goes against a team with a line weighing as much as the green football players of the Tigers.

Florida, Mississippi A. and M. and Tennessee do not open their seasons until next Saturday.

Auburn Tigers To Meet Birmingham-Southern Today

BY EMMETT SIZEMORE.

Auburn, Ala., September 25.—(Special.)—With the Auburn populace practicing for the first time, the final practice for the Auburn Tigers football team was held today at the stadium.

The practice Thursday was considerably lighter, with no real work and the time given over to dummy scrimmages, formation drill and kicking. The squad, which will have 27 players, accompanied by the coaches and a couple of student managers and trainers, reached the environs of Birmingham Friday afternoon.

The players-passenger list included: Captain Harkins, Olinghouse, Pruitt, McFadden, Robinson, Long, Spinks, Shots, Patterson, Self, Johnson, Pearce, Cunningham, Sheridan, Mark, Carter, E. Hodges, Taworth, Tague, Williams, Turner, Green, Hunnicutt, Crane, Salter, Granger and Davidson.

When approached for the probable lineup for the start against the southerners Saturday afternoon, Coach Harkins stated that he was still guessing as to who would be the first to get into the conflict, and the exact lineup would probably not be known until after the squad reaches Mungler.

A most probable lineup would consist of Robinson, center; Long and McFadden, guards; Captain Harkins and Pruitt, tackles; Olinghouse and Spinks, ends; Hodges, quarterback; Green and Williams, halves, and Turner, fullback. Everett Struppler, former Georgia Tech star, will man the whistle from the referee's station.

The game gets under way Saturday, Monday, at 2 p. m. The game will be a hard one, and the exact lineup would probably not be known until after the squad reaches Mungler.

Mrs. Charles Davis Is Hostess To Georgia Society D. A. C.

The Georgia Society of Daughters of the American Colonists held a very interesting meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of the regent, Mrs. Charles A. Davis, on Peachtree road. Many representative women from other parts of the state were present. Among them Mrs. W. C. Vereen and Mrs. W. J. Vereen, from McCallie; Mrs. Brooks, of Forsyth; Mrs. Tyler, of Dalton; Mrs. Holt, of Macon, and others.

A feature of the occasion was the presentation of three handsome flags, these flags having three lovely young girls as standard-bearers. The audience stood and joined in singing "The Star-Spangled Banner" as "Old Glory" was brought in. The Georgia flag followed, as Miss Margaret Battle's lovely voice sang "Georgia." Appropriate music was played as the flag of the Daughters of the American Colonists was unfurled, the flag being the gift of the regent, Mrs. Davis, and the vice president general, Mrs. J. M. High. By request Mrs. High placed the flags in the holders behind the regent's chair.

Spacious Sun Room.

The spacious sun room, decorated with autumn flowers and the beautiful costumes worn by the ladies present, made a lovely picture. Mrs. Brooks gave some delightful sketches from her history of the origin of our flag, soon to be published. Miss Battle charmed her hearers as she sang several numbers. She was well accompanied by her sister.

The society decided to give a scholarship for another year to West-Exan college, this being the oldest college for women in the world.

Miss Smith Wins Scholarship. Miss Ruth D. Smith was the winner of one-half scholarship to the Chicago Musical college, given by one of the members, and another member has given a $2,000 scholarship to the Tallulah Falls school. The society also sent a gift to the Missouri society for the memorial to pioneer women.

Mrs. Eli Thomas was appointed chairman of historical words and wills and the society decided to publish some of the words.

Wonderful Dresses!

We're happy to tell you—they're even superior—in both quality and beauty of style—to the lot we sold out of last week at the same price—and everybody agrees those frocks were marvelous. Though our first intention is to sell dresses—we hated to see every one of those dresses go out of the store till we could get more. Of course, we sent a swift message and now here they are—most gratifying.

See them early this morning—while they're all here—so many pretty styles—like going to a party trying to see all the pretty frocks at once.

The larger variety is satin—some are georgette, some are cloth.—Here are some awfully smart little school frocks of cloth. . . Lace, embroidery, braiding divide honors for decoration.

Funeral Services Held Today For James D. Price Who Died Suddenly at Athens Home

Member Georgia Public Service Commission Expires at Athens Home. Ill Only Few Hours.

Athens, Ga., September 25.—(AP)—Funeral services for James D. Price, 65, a member of the Georgia public service commission, and former commissioner of agriculture of Georgia, who died suddenly here early today, will be held Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the home. Interment will be in Oconee cemetery here.

Dr. J. C. Wilkinson, pastor of the First Baptist church of Athens, assisted by Dr. John D. Mell, president of the Georgia Baptist convention, will conduct the services. Pallbearers will be selected from members of the Mt. Vernon lodge of Masons here. Members of the Athens Kiwanis club will act as honorary pallbearers, as will the members of the public service commission.

Heart trouble is ascribed as the immediate cause of Mr. Price's death. He had spent Thursday at his farm in Oconee county and after returning home had retired, feeling ill. His condition, however, did not cause any anxiety until later in the night, when Mrs. Price found that he had suddenly become semi-conscious. She hurriedly summoned medical aid, but he died before physicians reached the home.

Mr. Price had been unusually active during the past several days. In addition to the duties of his office, he had become greatly interested in securing relief for farmers in the dry area through public road work and had recently made a trip to Washington with a committee for a conference with government road officials. Mr. Price was one of the best-known and best-liked men in public life in Georgia. Genial, jovial, he always looked upon the sunny side of life and could get a hearty laugh for all out of most any situation. Of commanding stature and always wearing a broad-brimmed hat, "Uncle Jim," as he was known all over the state, could speak to as many persons and call them by name as any man in the state. Although he was usually in a happy frame of mind, yet he could enter into serious consideration of any matter without jest or without taking state affairs lightly, as he demonstrated by the minuteness and business manner with which he considered state affairs, both as commissioner of agriculture and as a member of the public service commission.

Commissioner Price was born in Farmington, Ga., July 14, 1860, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Addison Price.

He was educated at the University of Georgia and in December, 1885, married Miss Lella M. Wilson, in Watkinsonville.

In 1907-8 he was a member of the Georgia house of representatives from Oconee county and during the following two years he served as senator from the 27th district.

He became commissioner of agriculture June 30, 1913, and served until February, 1917. He was director of the Georgia experiment station from March 1, 1917 to January 1, 1919. On the latter date Mr. Price began his service as a member of the Georgia public service commission.

Successful Farmer. At Farmington, Mr. Price owned one of the largest farms in this section of the state. Before removing to Athens a few years ago, he was one of the most prosperous farmers and leading citizens of Oconee county.

He was a Scottish Rite Mason, a Shriner, an Odd Fellow and a member of the Baptist church. He was also a member of the Athens Kiwanis club.

He is survived by his widow, three sons, Dr. Addison Price, Memphis, Tenn.; Price of Griffin, Ga.; and Price of Atlanta; one daughter, Miss Maria Price, of Athens; one brother, Pinkney Price, of High Shoals, and one sister, Mrs. Wellborn Lee, of High Shoals.

RESPECT SHOWN AT STATE CAPITOL. Offices of the Georgia public service commission were closed Friday afternoon in respect to the memory of James D. Price, vice chairman, who died in Athens.

Members of the commission with Paul Trammel, chairman, who is at Chattanooga with the W. A. Penney commission. The other members here are Donald W. McDonald, J. A. Perry and John T. Boileau.

Simpson Is Injured. Struck down by an automobile driven by Clyde Tate, of Indianapolis, Ind., Irving Simpson, 35, was carried to his home on Central avenue. Doctors stated that his injuries are not serious.

It is said that something went wrong with the steering wheel on Mrs. Cammack's machine.

system so that we may preserve the famous health conditions existing here. We must build a new city hall which will be a credit to the city.

"We should also look to the cultural life of the city," Mrs. Sharp concluded. "We long have needed an art museum in Atlanta and we should delay no longer in erecting one. There is work for us to do. The longer we delay the harder our task will be. ## JONES BROTHERS GET 2-YEAR TERM

Baltimore, Md., September 25.—(AP) Sentences of two years in the Atlanta penitentiary were imposed today upon Newfield T. Jones and his brother, Winfield Jones, found guilty yesterday by a jury in United States district court of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law through operation of the Maryland Drug and Chemical company.

Maurence H. Caro, through whose Washington store alcohol secured by the drug company on a government permit, was alleged to have been illegally disposed of, received a sentence of 18 months.

Five Baltimoreans, jointly indicted with the others, were sentenced to terms of a year and a day in the same institution by Judge Morris A. Soper, after he had overruled a motion in arrest of sentence.

These were Theodore Glasser and Simon Kerner, found guilty with a recommendation for mercy, and William Cohen, Jesse E. Baker, and Charles Baker, found guilty.

The Jones brothers, sons of the former Georgia senator of the Anti-Saloon League, and claimed by the government to have been the ringleaders in the conspiracy, were severely arraigned by Judge Soper in passing sentence.

"Your culpability is the greatest of all," Judge Soper said. "You have not only violated a federal statute, but you are guilty of treason to the government which you pretended to serve. You have been false to your government, false to your friends, and false to your heritage."

DIRIGIBLE CRASH LAID TO GAS DEFLATION

cells forward were equally as much deflated," Collier replied, "and the bag was 100 per cent full, yes, sir."

Taking over the cross-examination, Commander C. E. Rosendahl, senior surviving officer of the Shenandoah, developed that Collier had heard no sound of escaping gas when he awoke or later.

"Did you see any rip or tear in the gas bag?" asked Rosendahl.

"No, sir," was the response. The witness declared that he had inspected the before she sailed and that so far as he could observe there were no defective gas bags in the Shenandoah, and the condition of her hull was good.

Says Cells Intact. Before Collier took the stand Arthur Carlson, another chief rigger, whose duties included those of looking after the gas cells, had testified that when the ship was on trip, uncontrolled ascent, just before she broke up there was no excessive pressure on the cells. While his position later was such that he could observe only one bag, he declared that so far as he had knowledge all of the gas bags were intact up to the time the craft was wrecked.

Following Collier to the stand Frank L. Peckham, aviation pilot, gave a different version as to the condition of the gas bags.

He was awakened and upon feeling of number 9 bag found that the pressure was not excessive. He dozed off again and when he awoke the cell number 10 cell seemed to be about 85 per cent full.

"How did the cell compare with adjacent ones?" asked the judge-advocate.

"About the same," Peckham replied. "It is your understanding that cell number 9 functioned normally up to the time of the breaking up of the ship."

"Yes, sir." Testimony that number 8 gas cell was in "perfect condition," up to the time of the breaking up of the ship, was given by Frank Masters, another aviation pilot. He said that when the tail section was falling he rested his feet against the bag while clinging to a girder and that it was functioning. He added that when the ship struck there was still gas in the cell.

Previously Commander Rosendahl and Colonel C. G. Hall, army observer aboard the Shenandoah and several other survivors, members of the crew, had testified that they neither saw nor heard anything indicating a failure of any of the helium cells.

was explained, which would arouse opposition, especially from congress.

Several Conferences Held. President Coolidge has had several conferences with members of the board to adjust the situation, it was explained by the white house spokesman Friday, but has not drawn any conclusions as to what will be done. The president is not certain just what powers he has as regards the shipping board, it was said. It may be an entirely independent board, not subject to jurisdiction by the president or his cabinet, it was stated further. This is the claim made by the board, which holds it is responsible to congress alone.

The question, the president's spokesman said, is whether the members of the board are conducting themselves for the best interests of the shipping industry of the country.

Coolidge has taken no action on Hanes. It is believed he will submit another name for the place to the senate in December, in which case it was predicted Friday democrats and a republican insurgents will take occasion to criticize the president severely for his action.

May Ask Change in Law. It has been reported that Coolidge will ask congress in his annual message to place entire authority for handling the government's fleet in the hands of the emergency fleet corporation, in order to centralize authority, and to relegate the shipping board to a subsidiary position, with jurisdiction over rates and similar matters, with functions in shipping similar to those of the interstate commerce commission in regulating the railroads.

Senator Edge of New Jersey, republican, has announced he will introduce a bill to abolish the shipping board and place authority under a single head.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

IN 1527, FRANCISCO PIZARRO, A BRUTAL SPANISH SOLDIER, FIRED BY THE SUCCESS OF CORTES IN MEXICO, PREPARED TO INVADE PERU, THE RICH EMPIRE OF THE INCAS.

WITH HIS TWO PARTNERS IN THE VENTURE, ALMAGRO AND DE LUQUE, HE EXPLORED THE COAST OF PERU, BUT WAS DRIVEN OFF BY THE NATIVES.

IN 1531 PIZARRO INVADED PERU AND BY TREACHERY SUCCEEDED IN CAPTURING ATAHUALPA, THE INCA, WHOM HE HELD FOR RANSOM.

TO SECURE HIS FREEDOM, THE INCA GAVE THE SPANIARDS A ROOM FILLED WITH GOLD AND SILVER. PIZARRO WAS NOT SATISFIED AND KEPT THE INCA AS A PRISONER.

HEARING THAT A LARGE ARMY WAS COMING TO RESCUE THE INCA, PIZARRO DECIDED TO KILL HIM.

AS AN EXCUSE FOR SUCH A MEASURE, PIZARRO DEMANDED THAT ATAHUALPA SHOULD GIVE UP THE WORSHIP OF THE SUN GOD AND BECOME A CHRISTIAN. THE INCA REFUSED AND WAS PROMPTLY EXECUTED.

THE SPANIARDS THEN PRESSED ON INTO PERU, DEFEATED THE NATIVE ARMIES AND CAPTURED THE CITY OF LIMA, THE CAPITAL OF THE INCAS.

WITH THE WEALTHY SILVER MINES OF PERU IN HIS POSSESSION, PIZARRO SET HIMSELF UP AS LORD OF THE LAND.

A QUARREL OVER THE SPOILS SOON AROSE BETWEEN THE SPANISH LEADERS.

POWELTON MAN HURT IN FALL FROM CART

Johnson, prominent farmer and lumberman of the Powelton community in this county was painfully, if not seriously injured yesterday afternoon when he was thrown from a log cart on which he was riding. AUGUSTA FIRM OPENS BRANCH AT SPARTA

Sparks, Ga., September 25.—(Special.)—Lee Grocery company, of Augusta, has opened a branch of their wholesale business in Sparta, in one of the large and commodious warehouses along the tracks of the Georgia railroad, near the depot.

LOUISVILLE TOURIST TRAVEL ON INCREASE

Louisville, Ga., September 25.—(Special.)—It is noted that the number of tourists passing through here daily is in excess of any in the history of this Florida migration, so far as this town is concerned. It is estimated that as many as 250 or more of these tourists are going through here every 24 hours.

Nearly every state east of the Mississippi river is represented in this travel. Of late some north Georgians, many of whom made no crops this year, are in the procession.

HIGHWAY CONTRACT LET FOR NEW ROAD

Highway contracts for a portion of the Marietta-Cartersville road will be let at the October meeting of the state highway board, John N. Holder, chairman, announced Friday.

BEAUTY CHATS

CONVALESCENT'S TREATMENTS.

One of the worst things about being a convalescent is the amount of time on one's hands, and one of the best things to do with the time is to take a course of beauty treatments. As the whole system is run down from illness, you should give more than ordinary care to the skin and nails and scalp; and there is no time like this.

You'll probably not be able to treat your own scalp, at least not until you are sitting up a lot and have the strength to keep your arms over your head to massage. If the hair is greasy from illness and neglect, clean it and make it fluffy again by using dry shampoos—not the powder, but the liquid that rubs on with a bit of flannel and dries off at once. These are full of alcohol, but no matter, a little won't hurt the scalp. Eau de cologne or toilet water might be used if you cannot buy proper shampoos.

You can give yourself face and nail treatments though. Use cleansing cream and hot compresses to clear the skin of dirt and cream too, and use an astringent cream or lotion. Lying flat on bed, you can let the astringent stay on the face half an hour at a time, while you rest and it does its good work. Astringents act better when the face is relaxed and the patient lying down.

The nails are easy to manicure, and a pleasure to do, since you have no work and the skin stays white and soft. In fact, all beauty treatments are a pleasure at this time, for they help make you look better and that is bound to react on your health and spirits.

Foot treatments should be given at this time too.

J. A. B.: Some hair should always be falling out, but there should be new hair coming in also to take the place of the dead hair. Neither should you have dandruff nor the itching sensation.

You will do a great deal for your scalp if you massage it every day until you feel you have quickened its circulation. This may easily be all necessary to relieve you of the itching.

For dandruff try massaging some hot crude oil into the scalp the night before the regular massage. Tie up your head in an old towel to protect the bed linen and then shampoo next day very thoroughly to get out all the oil, even two lathers may be needed to effect this. If you feel that crude oil is too heavy, try olive oil for the massage.

Edna Kent Forbes is now ready to fill a long-felt need on the part of her readers—that of supplying the most important of her excellent beauty hints in illustrated pamphlet form.

To secure this valuable information you must address Miss Forbes in care of this paper, asking for her pamphlet, "Beauty," and enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in stamps.

When a chair was thrown at the goat it only excited him and he butted the chair to pieces. Call Officers McKinnon and Tipton answered the call to the home and placed the goat in chains. He will be held at the police station until his owner calls for him.

SHOWERS TO COOL ATLANTA TODAY, SAYS WEATHER MAN

Thundershowers which are predicted for Atlanta and vicinity today are expected to be more or less general over the state, according to C. F. Von Herrmann, chief of the local U. S. weather bureau.

Over-hanging clouds completely shut out the sunshine Friday in Atlanta with the result that the mercury dropped to a more comfortable point, 89 degrees marking its high point for the day, after beginning at 70 earlier in the morning.

Light showers in various sections of Atlanta fell during Thursday night and Friday, the rainfall being more of a sprinkle, however, and its principal effect being merely to cool off the atmosphere.

Forecaster Von Herrmann predicted that temperatures of this section probably would not again reach 90 this year, pointing out that the cool season has arrived and that fall weather is overdue.

New York, September 25.—Further recovery in the cotton market early today was not fully maintained, but after selling off from 23.95 to 23.67, December closed at 23.82 or 10 points net higher, while Chicago touched the highest price of the day in late trading and closed at 23.60. The general market closed steady at net advances of 8 to 25 points.

The market opened firm at an advance of 14 to 23 points, active months showing net advances of 20 to 22 points in response to relatively steady cables, further covering by shorts, trade buying and reports that further rains in the southwest were delaying the movement and lowering the grade of open cotton.

October sold up to 23.60 and January 23.25, but as the market approached the 24-cent level for December contracts, offerings seemed to increase. The bulk of these was attributed to Wall street and local operators who may have been influenced by reports of clearing weather prospects for the south and weekend figures tending to emphasize the heavy movement into sight and the accumulation of supplies at ports and interior towns. October sold off to 23.40 and January to 23.00 in consequence, but the market firmed up again in late trading on renewed covering promoted by the strength of the maturing position.

Notices representing about 12,000 bales were issued against October contracts this morning and circulated rather freely, but the near month offerings already were absorbed at the early discount of about 35 points under October and the late spurt of covering helped to pull up the later deliveries.

October closed only 22 points under December, compared with a difference of 35 points yesterday.

New York, September 25.—Spot cotton steady; middling 23.90.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET RALLIES IN LATE TRADING.

New Orleans, September 25.—The cotton market was only moderately active today, and prices fluctuated in only a comparatively narrow range. During the early trading prices advanced 21 to 24 points mainly owing to the higher Liverpool cables than due and the continued wet weather in the belt. Later in the session prices eased off and all the early gain and a few points besides were lost due to reports of an easier spot basis in southern markets, realizing and liquidation by longs and on more or less hedge selling. Secretary Hester's weekly statistics, particularly the heavy movement into sight, helped the decline.

After dropping to a level one to two points below the close of yesterday, the market rallied in the late trading about 15 points from the lows and the close showed net gains for the day of 7 to 12 points.

Today was first notice day for October deliveries in both American markets. Notices for 3,800 bales were issued here and promptly stopped but it was reported that a portion of notices for 20,000 bales issued in New York continued to circulate most of the day. This report helped the mid-session reaction in the local market.

At the start first trades showed gains of 10 to 21 points and the market continued to improve right after the opening call until December traded up to 23.22 and March to 23.12 or 21 to 34 points above the previous close. All this gain was subsequently lost and prices eventually declined to 22.90 for December and 23.12 for March, or 23 to 25 points below the early highs and one to two points net lower. A good rally near the end closed the market at a fair net gain. Secretary Hester made the movement into sight for the week 400,808 bales, and the mill takings for the week of 227,000 bales.

Exports for the day totaled 29,500 bales and for the week 110,763 bales.

CHICAGO TRADE BOARD FAVORS RULE CHANGES

Chicago, September 25.—(AP)—Directors of the Chicago board of trade tonight adopted the report of the members of the program committee providing for important changes in rules of the exchange.

Among the proposed changes are a plan for a curb on wide price swings, provision for outside members to vote by mail and creation of a body to be known as the business conduct committee.

The report will be submitted to a vote of the membership on October 9.

SOUTH LEADING IN FOREIGN TRADE

New York, September 25.—(AP)—The south is succeeding the west as the most rapidly growing section of the United States in originating American foreign trade, the National Foreign Trade council declared today, announcing that the 13th annual convention will be held in Charleston, S. C.

The convention will last from April 28 to April 30 and will mark the first important national convention held in that city since the democratic convention in 1890 which refused to nominate Stephen A. Douglas. At least 1,500 delegates are expected to visit the city and to tour cotton mill towns, steel plants and new southern port developments. The industries, the announcement said, have given the present impetus to the new south as a factor in international commerce.

LIVINGTON & CO.

New York, September 25.—In spite of advances in money rates, the market for most of the afternoon retained a fairly confident tone, although advances were mainly confined to special stocks. Evidently a great deal of the selling yesterday was from shorts as American Gas, Mack Trucks and some other issues which were particularly weak yesterday shot forward. With call money at 5 per cent in the late trading the market really gave an extraordinary exhibition of strength.

New Orleans, September 25.—The government report issued Wednesday came as quite a shock to the trade, and it may take the market some little time to recover from its effects. The trade, however, has been a good buyer on the decline and, in the meantime, the voracious demand for spots continues unabated. It would appear, therefore, that cotton at about 23 cents was considered reasonable, and as long as this continues the case we doubt any decline of consequence.

New York, September 25.—We think inherent strength from trade demand will be displaced rather steadily as prices show weakness but rallies will meet constant liquidation. Between the two, a scaling market appears probable for the immediate future. October Liverpool due Saturday, 12.57.

The Day in Finance

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, September 25.—Professional traders who sold stocks yesterday on the chance that the federal reserve bank here would advance its discount rate after the close of the stock exchange bought back the stocks today, starting an upward price movement throughout the list which continued until the rate on call money was advanced to 4 1/2 per cent was advanced to 4 1/2 per cent which trading quieted down. Automobile shares in which pools and the outside public have recently been trading heavily on the long side, were again the leaders in the upward price movement.

Aside from short covering automobile shares were helped first by a rally in the stock market, and then by the sales tax on cars which has been collected since the war and next by the weekly industrial employment statement from Detroit, showing the fourth consecutive year 1925 high record with the figures at 255,129. A time ago the figures were 197,850. From the figures at the beginning of this year the gain is now 57,795, which is remarkable considering the fact that the autumn season usually marks a falling off in automobile sales. However, evidence is accumulating that the automobile industry is showing an increase of 13,000 over the high level touched for the whole of 1924.

Professional traders in the stock market who have been selling automobile stocks short in feeling for the top are now buying back the shares. However, evidence is accumulating that the automobile industry is showing an increase of 13,000 over the high level touched for the whole of 1924.

Operation of Pools in Automobile Shares Long Side Lead Upward Trend of Stock Market; Removal of Sales Tax Is Rumored example, it was learned today that the managers of a pool in one automobile stock, who have been highly successful in marking up the price of their stock, are now quietly getting about the financial district asking holders of the stock to put their shares in what is called a "distribution" pool.

This entirely new variety suggests strongly that in marking up the price the members of the original pool got more stock than they now want and are afraid of getting more if efforts are made to again mark up the price a few points to make the stock appear attractive while distribution is going on. People who are being invited to put their long stock in the new pool are told that the stock will be thrown into the pool from which stock will be distributed to holders of the stock on a pro-rata basis.

From what can be learned Jesse Livermore, who from time to time has made many fortunes gambling on the short side of the stock market, is now not trading in stocks but is confining his talents to trading in the grain and cotton markets. From what is known of Livermore if he were trading in stocks the foregoing information would be considered valuable.

Recent stocks did better today. New York Central, for example, which opened with its $1.75 quarterly dividend coming off made up this dividend by a rise of 1/2 point to 39 1/2. Also were strong because next week the hearings will be resumed before the Interstate Commerce commission on the proposed Nickel Plate merger and speculative Wall street is expecting a favorable decision.

CURB LIST MAKES FAIR RECOVERY

New York, September 25.—(AP)—Curb market securities today shook off recent heaviness, and prices scored a substantial recovery in line with the rally in New York exchange. Several soft spots appeared but the quick rebound of most issues attested the market's underlying strength in the face of a week-end tightening of money rates and a lack of favorable trade news.

Although gains in the radio group were limited mostly to fractions, Victor Talking Machine made a spectacular jump of 9 points on reports of successful experiments with radio attachment and large sales of old models. Today's rise followed an advance of more than 4 points yesterday.

Kelvinator was outstanding feature among the industrials, rallying almost four points to a record high at 49 3/8. Land Company of Florida moved up 2 1/4 points and Stutz kept pace with the motor shares on the "big board" by advancing 1 1/8 to 14 3/8.

Public utility shares gave a good demonstration of group strength, several issues reaching new top prices for the year. Gains of two points were registered by American Light and Traction, American Power and Light and Power Corporation of New York. National Power and Light soared 18 points to a record high at 397.
